Appreciation . . .

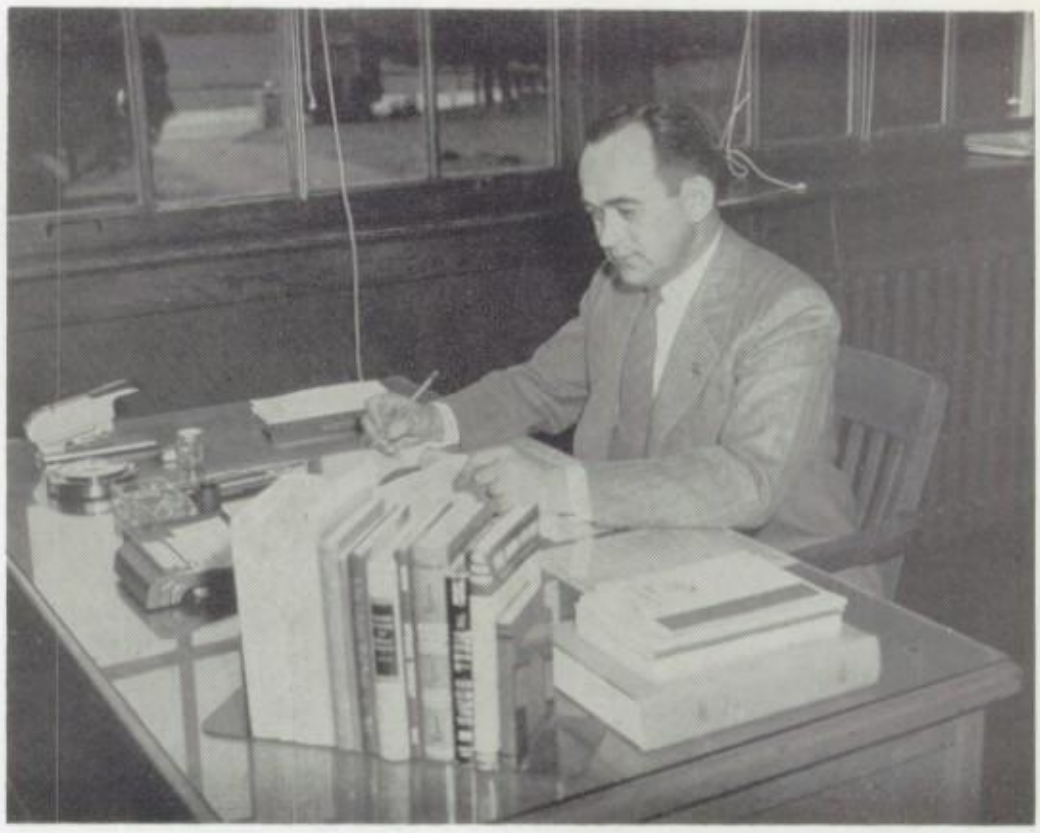
We, the members of the class of 1955, wish sincerely to thank all those who participated in the publication of this book. We especially want to extend our thanks to our advisors, Mr. Eshelman, Mr. Althouse and Miss Fulginiti for their assistance. We also want to thank our patrons and teachers as well as our photographers, Mr. Long and Mr. York and our publisher, Ensinger Printing Service.

Through their co-operation, our efforts have been fulfilled in making this book possible.

Dedication . . .

We, the Class of 1955, do Dedicate this thirteenth edition of the Tanawan to our teacher, friend and counsellor, Mr. George Althouse, Jr.

A Message from our Supervising Principal



Members of the class of '55, you are going forth from high school on a new quest. You are about to begin a new search. You are about to seek a new goal. We hope you are successful.

As you travel along on your way you are going to meet with people doing many things. You will find some of them enthusiastic about the things that they are doing. You will find others who are discouraged, and who have lost faith, not only with others, but with themselves.

You are going to meet people on whom the world has pinned the label of success. You are going to meet others who bear the failure tag.

Did you ever stop to think what makes a person a failure? A person who has failed is a person who has forgotten his destiny. The failure is one who picked a goal in life and then forgot all about it. A failure is one who wanted to go somewhere and get something; but who did not want to go somewhere bad enough or want that something hard enough.

All of you have ideas about what you want to do. Some of you have planned to go to college. Some of you will secure employment. Some of you want to do things; but how much do you want to do them? Where will you be ten years from now? Are you still going to be on your way to your destiny, or will you have forgotten where or why you started?

Life out of school is much like life in school. There will always be things to steal your time, to dissipate your energy, to entice you away from the things that you may want to do, and which you may realize that you should do. If you tarry, if you loaf, if you waiver, if you forget your destiny, then you may never arrive at your planned destination.

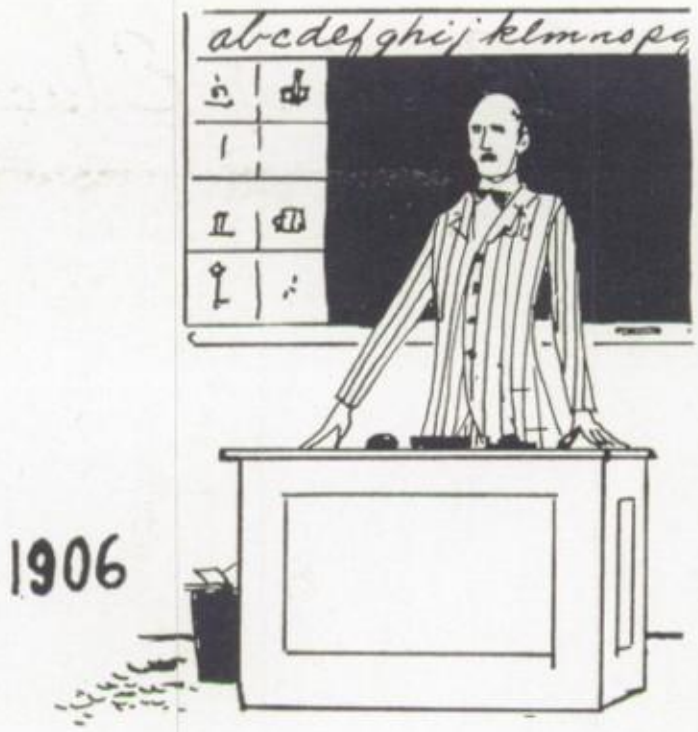
What is your destiny? Whither are you bound? It all depends upon you, and what is within you.

"Whoever said that you couldn't do
Exactly the thing that you're planning to?
Whoever thought that you couldn't climb
Up with the sun to heights sublime?
Who has advised you to check your pace,
Give up the struggle and lose the race,
Crawl off discouraged and hide your face?
Nobody but YOU."

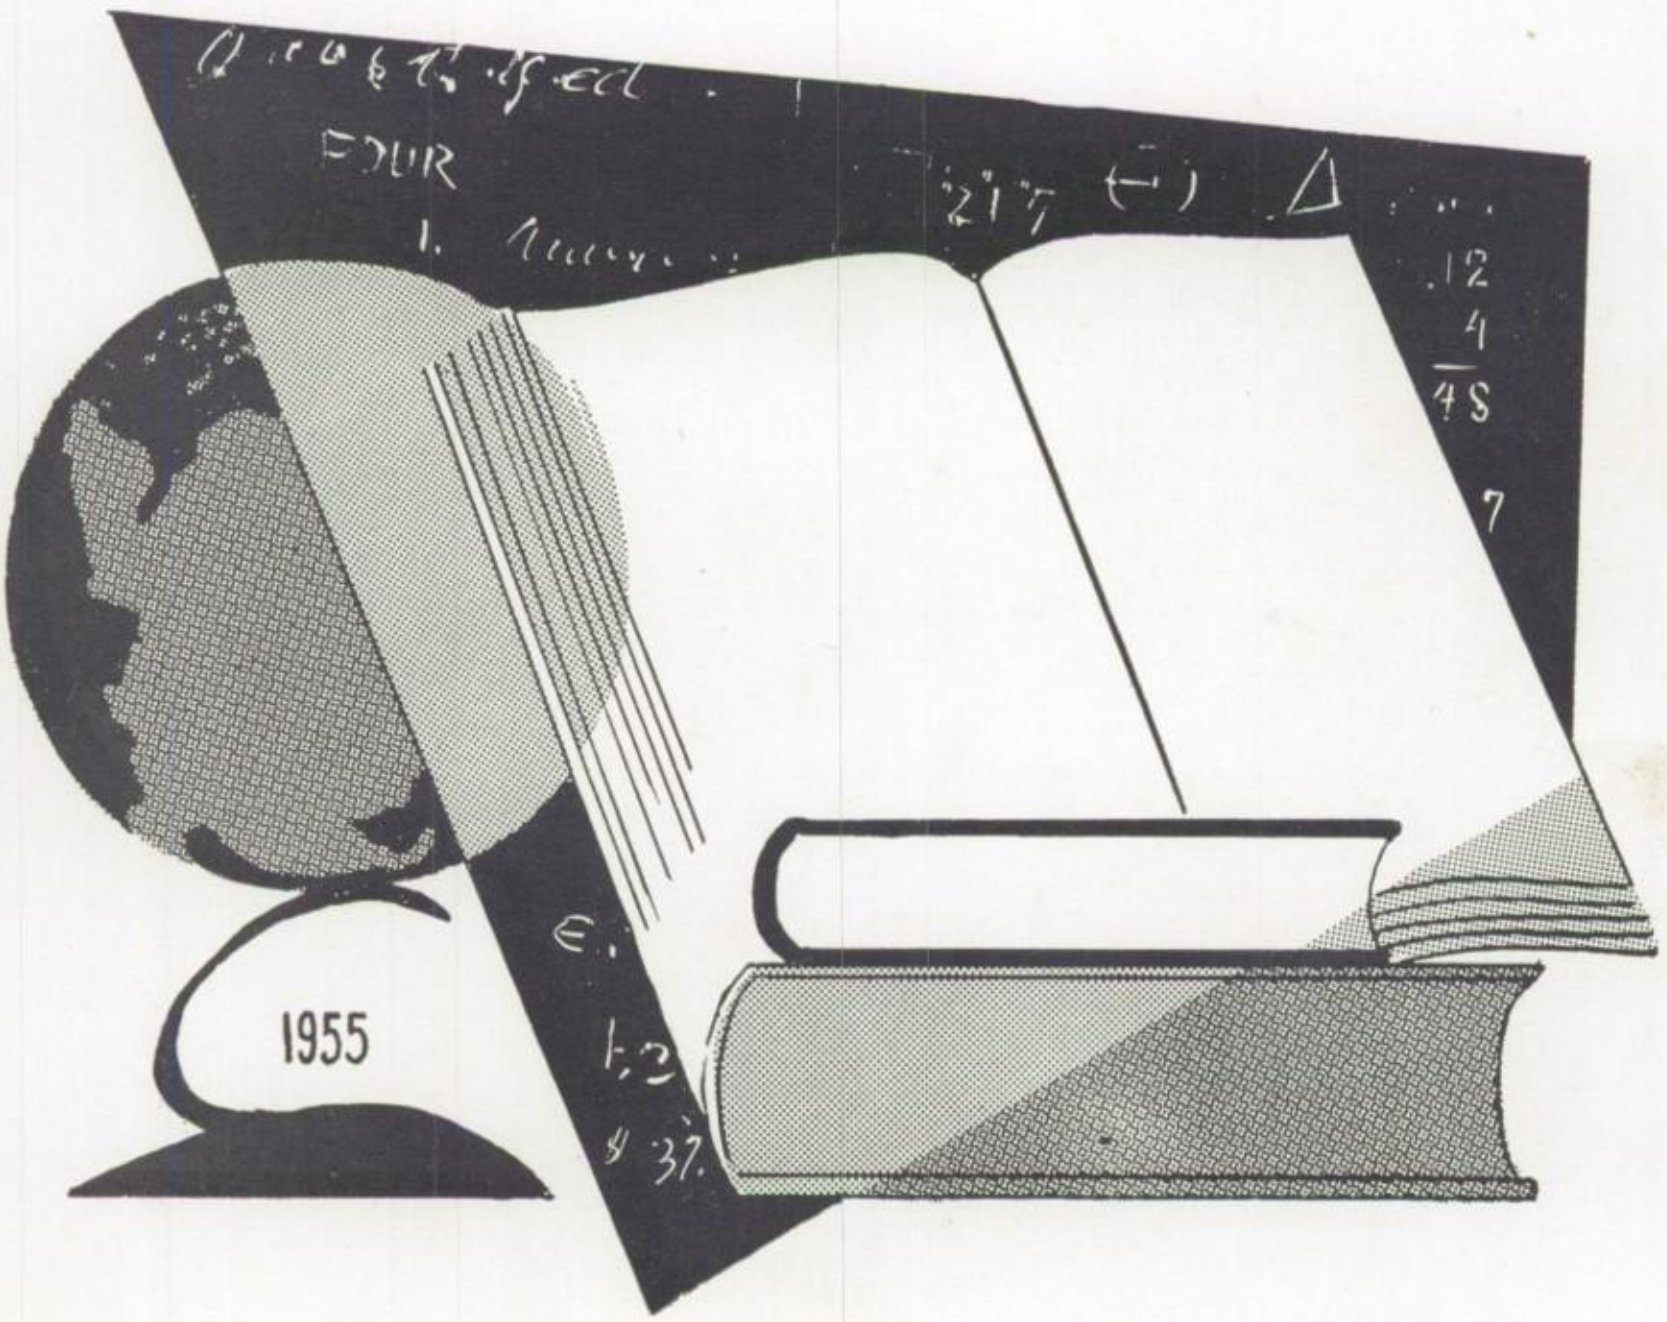
May you always keep your ideals high, fire your spirit, and vision and courage and you will reach your destinies.

I congratulate you and give you my best wishes. Have faith in God, in yourself and in the future.

ARTHUR W. ESHELMAN,
Supervising Principal



ADMINISTRATION



Board of Education

With a deep sense of satisfaction, we, the Board of Education, are pleased to extend to each of you in the class of "55" our heartiest congratulations. You have completed the established course in our school system and we are confident that each of you will be able to find your place in this ever-changing world.

Paradise Township is rightly proud of the youth graduated from its high school. We can look with pride on the fine scholastic records attained by those of our Alumni who have entered various colleges in the past. It is difficult to enumerate or to sum up the vast accomplishments and high achievements of our graduates who have passed through these portals and have gone onward and upward to new heights of success. Nevertheless, it is easy enough to reason that, because of them, this community is a better place in which to live.

So, we trust that you, too, will be able to go forth to meet the challenge that will confront you in this great day of opportunity. You have our best wishes for a happy and successful life.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

CLASS
1951-1952

On September 4, 1951, fifty-two excited freshmen entered Room F to begin our first year in high school. Mr. Blevins was our faculty advisor.

At our first class meeting we elected our class officers. Joe Liebig was elected class president; Daryl Lichty, vice president; Dale Rice, secretary; and Ronald Burkholder, treasurer. We also elected our fire patrol members.

We ordered our rings which were the standard Paradise school rings. We sponsored the initial class party of our high school life, on March 28, 1952.

At the end of the school year we went to Hershey where we enjoyed ourselves at the amusement park. Some of the class also toured the chocolate factory.

1952-1953

After a summer's vacation we entered Paradise High School as sophomores. Our class, with forty-six sophomores, had decreased in size.

For class officers we elected Bill Rohrer, president; Joe Liebig, vice president; Ellen Yohn, secretary; and Dorothy Hersh, treasurer.

Mr. Althouse was our faculty advisor. A Thanksgiving party, "The Gobbler's Farewell", was given in honor of Mr. Blevins, who was leaving.

For our class trip we again went to the Hershey Amusement Park.

HISTORY

1953-1954

We returned to Paradise in the fall of 1953. Being the class of '55, we were now nearing the top. Mr. Althouse was again our faculty advisor.

This year we elected Rose Donato, president; Dale Rice, vice president; Ellen Yohn, secretary; and Elvin Kreider, treasurer.

One of the first things we did this year was select our class colors to be navy blue and white. We also purchased class rings, jackets, and hats.

We held a dance on December 11 after the West Lampeter basketball game. The outstanding feature of the year was the Junior-Senior Reception, held at the Old Stone Barn, on May 14, 1954.

We finished the Junior year by taking a trip to Hershey.

1954-1955

We entered the high school for our last year at Paradise. Mr. Althouse and Mr. Eshelman were our faculty advisors.

We elected officers soon after the school term began. We elected Elvin Kreider as president; Daryl Lichty, vice president; Ellen Yohn, secretary; and Dorothy Hersh, treasurer.

This was our busiest year. Some of our class activity included a bake and soup sale, a dance held after the East Lampeter basketball game, a class party, and also the Junior-Senior play.

One of the best things we will remember is the three-day trip to Washington, D. C.

The greatest event we will remember is the receiving of our diplomas on May 31, 1955.

TOP: Elva Rowe and Violet Groff show salesmanship by selling hot dogs at lunch.

CENTER: Joe Liebig finds that showing the chemistry class how to make chlorine can be very interesting. "Don't spill that acid, Joe."

A Look Into The Future

CLASS PROPHECY OF 1955

Not too many years ago there were pioneers who lived mostly by intestinal fortitude, people very much like you and me, except for one difference, and that is education.

Those people were brave indeed, but today we need to be even braver. Not alone with honor, integrity and courage fill the bill for a growing, complex nation like ours, but a broad and intense education planned and geared to the ever increasing pace of life that is being set before the leaders of tomorrow.

It is because of this rapid change that Paradise will soon no longer be Paradise High. Instead a new school will soon come to be — The Pequea Valley Consolidated High School.

The people who sponsored this new school are truly the pioneers of today.

So I take the privilege of thanking them for their dedication and foresight. For they gave to us, to me and my classmates, a better foot hold to become the men and women who may be the leaders of tomorrow.

We will be proud and honored to be among the first to graduate under the new school system, and the last seniors to occupy the old school building. This will be a very special graduation that should not be forgotten.

I write this preface to the prophecy because I feel that the improvements made will have a definite impression on the futures of my classmates.

CLASS OF 1955

As I enter my school for the last time as a student, I think how it had made us more wise and prudent. I think of my classmates, and wonder what they will all be after graduation.

Their dreams of their own life, and maturity will come most assuredly.

There's Elvin Kreider, our class president, an engineer-to-be, and Margaret Steinman, a nurse in medical surgery.

Here reading a book is Glenn Fisher; he will be an economist; and looking over his shoulder is Josef Liebig; he'll be an agronomist.

There talking to a school musician is Mary Wiker; she will be a beautician. Clustered around are Ethel Miller, Anna Harsh, and Ann Gregg, who will be beauticians, too.

Who's Fred Fisher talking to? I think Fred will be an accountant before he is through. Robert Shaubach is talking to Fred. Robert will be a butcher by trade. And looking on is Kenneth Wise; a physicist of him will be made.

As each class member comes into view, oh - oh there's Esther Graves; she and Mary Lou Haldeman will be United States Navy Waves.

Over by the door is Norma Probst; she will be a skating instructor. Daryl Lichty as a carpenter will be a building constructor.

Ellen Yohn and Jane Feister both will be medical secretaries. They will be helping future doctors, like Rosa Lee Frank, to fight diseases of different varieties.

Wilbur Rohrer will be out West as a rancher. Elva Rowe will be a school teacher; for her dreams there is found an answer.

June Hershey, a future brain surgeon at Byberry, is talking to Dorothy Hersh, a future secretary.

As an auto mechanic James Rynier will his career start, and so will Dale Rice, Ray Leaman, and Wilmer Burkhart.

James Emerick will set his cap to be an engineer, and Alpha Yoder will be a farmer and work a farm close by here.

Ronald Burkholder will fix car bodies and fenders; Violet Groff will be a singer in all of her splendor.

Walter Koch, a future Diesel electric engineer, is talking to Priscilla Keneagy, an interior decorator.

And there is Donald High, a business manager and financier. Over there, looking out the window, is James Eby, a future electronics engineer.

All these students I have seen, have been quiet and sincere, because they know that soon from this school they must go. Out into the world that seems to be very cold, they will march straight and bold. For new goals they will now try to achieve, and a new and wonderful life is out there for them to receive.

If they use wisely the knowledge they have obtained in our school hall, a success will become of them all.

Josef Wilhelm Liebig.

HISTORY OF TANAWAN

The Paradise High School began the publication of the Tanawan in 1943.

The seniors are responsible for the publication of the Tanawan. At the beginning of the school year the seniors vote on whether to have a yearbook or not. This year the majority of the seniors voted in favor of the idea. They pay for the publication of the Tanawan through the ads and subscriptions.

The Tanawan has been developed quite a bit since the first one was published. For example, the cover has become more modern and more expensive.

Since this is the last year for the publication of the Tanawan, we, as seniors, have tried to make this yearbook as good or even better than any yearbook that has ever been published.

Pioneer

HISTORY OF PIONEER

The school newspaper, "The Pioneer", has been published ever since the high school was in the "Little red school house" across the road from the present high school building. In 1935-36 the first printed edition was published on the standard size which we are using at the present time.

The editors are chosen by the faculty advisor and the reporters volunteer at the beginning of the term.

The paper tries to cover all news of the school and anything connected with the school.

The feature page is written for the enjoyment of the readers and also to put across the ideas which the editorials try to express.

The fire patrol was again organized this year, for the purpose of promoting safety in case there is such an emergency as a fire. There are four officers: chief, assistant chief, and two lieutenants. Mr. Eshelman is the faculty advisor.

Each month there is a drill set up to keep students in practice so they know exactly what to do and where to go in the event of a fire. The duty of the officers and home room captains is to get the windows closed and to help the pupils out in an orderly fashion.

The school has seven pyrene fire extinguishers and two fifteen pound carbon dioxide extinguishers. There are two one-hundred feet hoses connected to the water system, one in front of the building and one in back.

The school receives fine cooperation from the Paradise-Leaman Place Fire Company.

The duties of the librarians are to repair the books, to keep the books in good order on the shelves and to give any information that the pupils ask for. The library receives county library books every six weeks.

Any book that is taken out is due one week from the day it is taken from the library room. Two cents is charged for every day the book is kept out overtime.

The Letter Club had its beginning in 1952 and since it proved a success, the membership enlarged. Each member in the club has to have earned a letter for participating in sports or cheerleading. The club has a variety of important duties such as setting up the intramural schedule, arranging ping pong tournaments, etc.

The club is not all work. In the fall the members went to Philadelphia to see a professional football game. They also sponsored a dance after the Alumni Game and the proceeds went toward paying their way to see a baseball game in the spring.

The officers of the club are: Bill Rohrer, president; Daryl Lichty, vice president; Joyce Shirk, secretary; Elvin Kreider, treasurer.

Varsity and Junior Varsity Cheerleaders

Under the supervision of Mrs. Pauline Reese, the Cheerleading Club met to think of new cheers. They planned and organized the pep rallies and they have proved very successful for the basketball team.

This year the cheerleaders were chosen by a student vote. In previous years they had been selected by the teachers' vote.

The Varsity Squad and their mascot "Jaledin", have done a wonderful job for cheering the boys on to victory.

The Junior Varsity Squad and their mascot "Angel", have also done a good job for the boys.
